

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a controlling instrument which enables a mobile user to trigger electronic, electrical, acoustic, visual and mechanical events.

In the musical domain, said instrument enable two handed playing which, depending on the variants, ranges over more or less five simultaneous octaves, whith further modulation possibilities without the addition of a pedal or a mouthpiece.

The inventive instrument also comprises, as main characteristics, a prehension bar (1) that can be flexible and digital controls (3) which are adjacently arranged thereon, said flexible bar (1) controlling a sensor (5).

The inventive device is especially suitable for shows and indutry.